LITIGATION SUPPORT

(Experience providing similar support to US agencies) - The firm provides litigation support and administrative law experience, having provided trial, appellate and administrative litigation services in a variety of substantive areas – in both the public and private sectors.

FHFA (Current Contract)<sup>1</sup>: Diamond et ux. v. U.S. National Bank, et al., (the “Diamond Litigation”). The firm serves as litigation counsel in defense of the Federal Housing Finance Agency, a defendant in the Diamond Litigation filed in U. S District Court for the District of Maryland.

We have performed to date under budget and await a ruling on a motion to dismiss on substantive grounds (a defective pleading, narrowing the issues, limiting discovery and other aspects of the case against FHFA) to bring an end to the Diamond Litigation before substantial costs associated with discovery and other issues are incurred.

<sup>1</sup> FHFA is an agency of the United States government with general supervisory and regulatory authority over the Federal National Mortgage Association (“Fannie Mae”), Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation (“Freddie Mac”), Federal Home Loan Banks, and the Office of Finance, and which has acted as a conservator of Freddie Mac and Fannie Mae since 2008.

Past performance also includes our work for the National Science Foundation, Office of the General Counsel, (NSF), starting in 2012. The National Science Foundation, Office of General Counsel, engaged Moore & Associates to provide legal support in all areas of government contracting, bid protests and contract disputes. Management personnel have extensive experience managing and supervising the drafting of federal administrative decisions and orders and ensuring compliance with the Administrative Procedure Act.

We have handled major procurement matters including, by way of example, (1) the re- structuring of the Federal Aviation Administration Automation System, (2) the purchase, installation, and maintenance of explosive detection equipment at all US airports, (3) the TSA personnel reorganization, (4) OTAs with US airport baggage screening systems, and (5) the sale/transfer of security equipment to foreign governments.

We have handled asset recovery matters for institutional lenders dating back to the Resolution Trust Corporation and complex corporate litigation regarding the disposition of assets. See, Court Order (Confessed Judgment) (Anne Arundel County), Case No.: C-13-179410. We have prosecuted proceedings in federal district courts located in the states of Maryland and New York and in Washington, D.C.

FOIA

Our staff attorneys have worked with U. S. Department of Treasury, Special Inspector General for the Troubled Asset Relief Program (SIGTARP) receiving excellent remarks for work ethic and competency over the past five (5) years. We also have a long history serving the State of Maryland, Office of the Attorney General, Consumers Affairs Division and Energy Division, since 2012.

SIGTARP (Current Contract): The firm currently provides FOIA support to the Special Inspector General for the Troubled Asset Relief Program, Department of Treasury (SIGTARP). This is our fourth contract including renewals with SIGTARP dating back to the Spring of 2016.

During the past several years, we worked closely with SIGTARP counsel during litigation proceedings on extremely sensitive materials under pressure of a FOIA request for 70,000 documents. Staff attorneys made recommendations for disclosure or nondisclosure and preliminary redactions of documents for review and approval by senior counsel. Staff attorneys also assisted in consulting with other offices within the Department of the Treasury and with separate agencies under the executive branch when appropriate. All deadlines set by SIGTARP were met and we were instrumental in the implementation of a system to update and maintain information regarding disclosure timelines. A quality review of all redactions was also undertaken regularly to ensure accuracy and completeness of each task. Staff attorneys have a strong, working knowledge of FOIA.

Other duties undertaken by staff attorneys have focused on document requests in the national security field including, for example, creating infographics for one of the longest and most complicated FOIA requests in history which spanned documents from 1997-2011. Staff attorneys also have (1) had experience involving transfers and referrals in conjunction with more than 15 agencies/sub-agencies, (2) made physical visits to the National Archives to research OLC opinions issued to agencies before declassification requests or FOIA requests are handled, (3) drafted and filed FOIA pleadings in D.C. District Court, and (4) filed FOIA requests with agencies including the Federal Bureau of Investigations and United States Department of Justice. Staff attorneys have also created a legal research guide to the Freedom of Information Act for an advanced legal research class.

TRANSACTIONAL SUPPORT

General Services Administration, Public Buildings Service Office of Real Property Utilization & Disposal (Current Contract): The firm and its partners serve to advise GSA on its real property portfolio in various capacities, including value added services, targeted asset reviews, real property sales and support services, and a full range of related strategic advisory services under a blanket purchase agreement in effect.

The firm has a long history serving the State of Maryland, Office of the Attorney General, Consumers Affairs Division and Energy Division (MEA)<sup>2</sup> from and after 2012. The firm was renewed multiple times covering more than five (5) consecutive years.

As legal counsel to MEA dating back to 2012, the firm has reviewed and documented an array of financial transactions including (1) inter-creditor arrangements, (2) asset recovery matters, (3) subordination arrangements, (4) loan modifications, (4) bankruptcy related matters, and (5) all boilerplate documentation relied on by the agency going forward from and after 2015. We are intimately familiar with senior obligations, subordination agreements, inter-creditor agreements, permitted encumbrances, negative or financial covenants inclusive of loan to debt ratios, use of funds, borrower's contributions, regulatory provisions and personal or corporate guarantees. In 2016 the State of Maryland engaged the firm to author all boilerplate documentation for its Jane Lawton Loan Program.

Before our engagement by MEA, the firm provided high level legal counsel and support to DOD, Office of Research and Technology Applications. We pioneered and authored the first private equity deal involving WRAIR and Iomai Corporation, a public company trading on the NYSE. We continued to structure complex joint ventures and technology exchanges to pool resources with the private sector and to promote privatization of patentable technologies with national implications for the public benefit for more than a decade. The firm has maintained an outstanding relationship with the Office of Research and Technology Applications at Fort Detrick in Frederick, Maryland since 1999. We understand laws applicable to military sales and exchanges generally and we remain engaged and continue to provide counsel and advice in contract disputes, complex commercial controversies, commercial real estate finance analyses, asset management, and economic/financial modeling and analysis to our public and private sector clientele.

<sup>2</sup> MEA, an independent agency of the State of Maryland, required legal support to structure and document loans under the Jane E. Lawton Conservation Loan Program ("JELLP" or the "Program") codified as Sections 9-20A-01 through 9-20A-10 of the State Government Article, Annotated Code of Maryland (as amended, the "Act"), for the energy efficiency projects financed by MEA around the State of Maryland. In 2012, the firm won the initial award and retained the client in a competitive bidding process over the five (5) year period. The firm was engaged to train attorneys within MD- OAG and to provide guidance and counsel to MEA. Legal counsel with support of legal assistants or paralegals routinely performed and documented rigorous and sophisticated due diligence and legal analysis of complex business and real estate transactions and similar services rendered for and on behalf of MEA. In 2015 the State reengaged the firm to draft all boilerplate documentation relied on by MEA under the JELLP Program consistent with the Act. MD-OAG determined legal support for the Program was no longer needed in 2018.
